11:40 Networking practices and specificity of ecomuseums and community museums

This session aims at confronting present networking and cooperation practices at regional, national and international levels, in order to demonstrate the unity of the ecomuseum movement and its specificity: management of global heritage and landscape of territories, community participation, interdisciplinarity, contribution to local development, collaboration at all decision levels with museums, monuments and sites, and scientific institutions.

The latter point will be discussed particularly with representatives of national and international organizations, natural partners of the ecomuseum movement.

1. Introduction to the theme and explanation of the working method (5')

Donatella Murtas, Hugues de Varine

2. Presentation of contributions (50')

Each contributor is invited to present in a few words (maximum 5 minutes each) his/her network and future perspectives, the relations to the world of museums, heritage and landscape. All documents sent in advance or brought to the Forum by the contributors to this session will be summarized on the screen in English and Italian. They will be later published in extenso among the Papers of the Forum.
